Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Calculators

We are writing to inform you that we are currently in the privileged position to be able to offer the Casio 991ex calculator at the discounted price of £22.50. We have a limited supply and so this offer is on a first come first serve basis, this is a discount of over 30% off. Today's prices for the UK version of the Casio 991ex on Amazon is £32.95.

From September 2023 we will be asking that all students possess their own Casio 991ex calculator. Students are able to gain/check up to 10% of the marks on GCSE exam papers using the Casio 991ex rather than standard scientific calculators. In order for our students to be in the best position, we feel it is necessary for them all to have the ability to practice with their own calculator both in lessons and when completing self-study tasks. For our students who are moving on to take A-Level Maths there is the additional benefit that the Casio 991ex is the recommended calculator from Barton Peveril.

For parents wishing to capitalise on this discounted price, please pay through ParentPay before 30 March 2023.

Yours faithfully
